Conversations with Santa

A visit from Santa is on everyone's wish list!

The Things Children Say to Santa! Every year, millions of children visit Santa and write letters to him asking for all sorts of toys and wishes. Some only want a big pile of toys. But some children come to see Santa with truly remarkable requests and comments. Art Linkletter proved it in his TV show, 'Kids Say the Darndest Things.' We love to hear and read what children say.

Last year, Santa Kevin met over 9,000 children! He listened to their eye-opening requests, their funny and tender, sad and poignant hopes and wishes. And he wrote down the best for everyone to enjoy in his book 'Conversations with Santa.' As he told friends and civic groups the stories, they were enchanted! How insightful children can be reminds us the message of Santa and Christmas still remains true in our hearts.

From one boy's seven-page list to a little girl's only request: to "know what Santa wants for Christmas;" and from one young woman's hope for an engagement ring to a memorable dinner with Santa for two girls. Santa Kevin brings these touching stories home as he retells them in the pages of his book. As one girl who came to see Santa said, "Surprise me!"

He found that you just never know what is going to happen next. The wonder and excitement of Christmas became all new to him.
